Welcome to the 15th Edition of the CCC Toronto International Music Festival! On behalf of the executive team of the CCC Toronto International Music Festival, it is our honor to extend a heartfelt welcome to each of you for our 15th edition! This landmark event not only celebrates extraordinary talent but also embodies the spirit of perseverance and passion that music inspires in us all. Over the years, this festival has grown into a vibrant platform where emerging musicians showcase their dedication and artistry. Each performance is a unique story, woven together by the universal language of music, which unites us in our shared love for this beautiful art form.

We're thrilled to announce an incredible response from participants this year, reflecting their enthusiasm for music! With over 200 diverse classes available, aspiring musicians have numerous opportunities to explore their talents. This turnout highlights the dedication of our participants and the vital role of music education, supported by the teachers and parents behind them. We extend our deepest gratitude to all the teachers who inspire their students and to the parents who encourage their musical journeys.

We extend our deepest gratitude to our generous sponsors, whose support is crucial to the success of this festival. A special thank you goes to Steinway & Sons, our official piano and scholarship sponsor this year. Their commitment to excellence in music education and their provision of world-class instruments elevate our festival experience and inspire our participants to reach new heights.

A heartfelt thank you goes out to our dedicated organizing committee, whose tireless efforts and unwavering commitment have made this festival possible. We would also like to extend our gratitude to our jury members, who will be working diligently to adjudicate over 200 classes. I want to take this opportunity to extend a very warm welcome to the participants, supporters, and friends of the Chinese Cultural Centre's annual Music Festival. Our mission is to assist in developing the wonderful talent of our participants by offering a myriad of performance opportunities at the Festival, and in so doing we also celebrate the brilliant music written by towering geniuses of the past and present!

The study of a musical instrument enhanced by numerous performance opportunities enables young people to master disciplined learning, a skill needed to excel in any profession. In addition, cognitive studies continually reaffirm that those who study music bring more creative thinking to all of their future endeavors. Some of the participants we hear this week will choose music as a profession, and some won't, but the instrumental study is always a benefit to all, so we are happy to nurture the growth of the next generation by providing opportunities in which they are able to showcase their musical achievements.

My very best wishes to all participants and I trust this week will be a memorable one for all concerned!

It gives me tremendous joy to support the Chinese Cultural Centre of Greater Toronto as they host the CCC Toronto International Music Festival.

Having grown up in the GTA, I have participated in many festivals and competitions first in Toronto, then nationally, and finally on the world stage. Festivals and competitions provide an unparalleled motivation for young artists as they journey towards artistic excellence; we learn a great deal about ourselves when our skills are put to the test.

Support from our teachers, mentors, jurors, parents and peers, is infinitely important to every young artist – for their development and to fuel their passion.

I sincerely thank and commend the CCC for their dedication to providing this essential nurturing platform for these wonderful young artists to engage with our community as they hone their skills and pursue their dreams.

It is my wish that our young artists will be inspired by themselves and each other, and find life-long artistic collaborators and friends in music.

With very best musical wishes,

Dr. Younggun Kim

Artistic Director - Piano

Dear all,

It is my greatest pleasure to greet you to the 2024 CCC Toronto International Music Festival. Since our first festival in 2010, many talented pianists and string players have played and worked with renowned musicians around North America. Many of them went off to very promising musical careers, while others continue to play and enjoy music as a fundamental part of their lives pursuing other paths. I sincerely hope that all the participants of this year's festival will have a fun and meaningful time.

We take pride in the fact that our festival has been a stage for aspiring musicians who want to perform and learn. All our performances take place in the beautiful 626-seat P. C. Ho Theatre at the Chinese Cultural Centre, which is a rare privilege especially for the upcoming generation of musicians. I am also glad that all the piano participants will have the joy of playing a beautiful instrument sponsored by Steinway Gallery.

My sincere gratitude goes to our organizing committee. Without your hard work, this festival would not be possible.

I look forward to seeing and working with you!

Sincerely,
Younggun Kim

Dr. Conrad Chow Artistic Director - Strings

We're so excited to have you join us at this year's CCC Toronto International Music Festival. Since 2010, we've had the joy of seeing young musicians from around the world share their talents with us, and it's incredible to watch this festival grow into one of Canada's most cherished music events.

This year has been especially exciting! We are expecting a record-breaking turnout based on registrations and applications. We've added some fresh categories like Amateur, Duet, Popular Music, and Master Classes for piano and strings. And once again: a selection of our winners will get the once-in-a-lifetime chance to perform with the Cathedral Bluffs Symphony Orchestra! We can't wait to see what the future holds for these amazing young artists.

Of course, none of this would be possible without the support of our incredible sponsors, our dedicated adjudicators, and the wonderful teachers and parents who guide these musicians every step of the way. To all of you—thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

And to the participants, I can't say it enough: we are so proud of you! You've poured your heart and soul into your performances, and it shows. Whether or not you take home an award today, just know that stepping on that stage, sharing your music, and being brave enough to express yourself is a victory in itself.

Lastly, a huge thanks to our organizing committee, CCC staff, and the incredible volunteers who work tirelessly behind the scenes. You're the heartbeat of this festival.

Let's sit back and enjoy the music!

Musically yours,

Dr. Conrad Chow
Artistic Director for Strings

CC Toronto International Music Festival is Looking for Passionate Volunteers

We are seeking passionate volunteers to join our festival team. As a festival volunteer, you will play a crucial role in supporting various aspects of our festival operations, contributing to the vibrant artistic scene in the community.

The CCC Toronto International Music Festival is an annual celebration of young musicians' artistic achievements. Our mission is to provide a platform where young musicians can come together to learn, grow, and showcase their potential in pursuit of excellence; to provide on-stage performing opportunities for emerging music talents; and to promote harmony through the sharing of music (www.ccctimf.org).

Main Benefits of Volunteering for CCCTIMF:

- Gain valuable experience in event management and nonprofit administration.
- Expand your network by meeting fellow music lovers and get a taste of behind-the-scenes experience of music festival.
- Contribute to a meaningful cause by supporting young musicians' development.
- Opportunity to assume a key role in the festival organizing committee.
- Receive volunteer hours if you are secondary school students.

To join our incredible team of volunteers, please submit your resume with brief reasons why you would like to be part of our dynamic volunteer team to: info@ccctimf.org.
